Selectmen's Meeting

NOVEMBER 8, 1983 - by Virginia Arral

MEETING ON HAZARDOUS MATERIAL

On the Right to Know Law, whereby towns should know what type of hazardous material is either being transported through its boundaries or disposed of on its land, Selectman John N. DeCosta expressed the opinion last Tuesday that municipalities will be held liable if there is a hazardous waste problem in their town.

DeCosta reported on a joint meeting held with Acushnet and Fairhaven officials on hazardous material. "If a spill of any size occurs, the local police notify the state police, who, in turn, have the authority to call someone to clean up the hazardous material. Of particular concern to the officials is Route 195."

Concern was expressed by the board that the water department should also be notified so that wells could be checked to determine if the water supply is threatened. If there is any danger, wells could be shut down and we could temporarily be hooked into Fairhaven, explained DeCosta.

Selectman James Huntoon said as he understands it there is a manual in the Fire and Police Departments explaining truck signs and informing them what type of hazardous material is being carried in the truck.

Further discussions will be held on the subject and a decision will be made as to who will attend a seminar in Mansfield on December 6th on the Right to Know Law.

Try this after-dinner drink called Orangiano Tea. Add one tablespoon each of Galliano and Grand Marnier to a mug of "Constant Comment" that has been steeped five minutes. Garnish with a twist of orange peel for a pretty touch, and serve.

In other business, Selectmen:

AGREED to have the Old Rochester Regional High School warning lights on Route 6 rescheduled to coincide the timing with the changed bus routes. The request came from Andrew J. Santos, ORR Business Manager, and R. Stanley Ennis, the Police Department's Public Safety Officer. It was noted the State Department of Public Works requires Selectmen's approval prior to any change.

READ a letter from the Plymouth County Fire Chiefs Association sent to Officer Milton Heuberger, Jr. It read, in part, "as a group we commend Officer Heuberger and recognize his efforts in the arson investigation of the Sly Foxe case".

RECEIVED notice from the State DPW that funding is available for the repair or reconstruction of municipally owned bridges. The notice will be referred to Manuel R. Nunes, Highway Surveyor.

RECEIVED NOTICE from Fire Chief Paul Bradley that firefighter Donald Linhares injured his hand at an October 28th drill. Linhares is filing an injury form with the town insurer, noted Executive Secretary Carol Adams.

The secretary informed Selectmen she told Chief Bradley that the injury must be reported within 48 hours and not two weeks after an accident.

DREW the following names to serve on jury duty at the Criminal/Civil Session at Brockton starting December 5, 1983: Dan Blanchly, 33 River Road; Robert J. Winkler, 4 Brierpatch Lane; Cynthia H. Holden, 31 Church Street; Barry E. Oliveira, 50 Brant Beach Avenue; and Debra J. Tavares, 3 Martin Avenue.

APPROVED the 1984 renewal of the Beano licenses of St. Anthony's Church and the Knights of Columbus. After local approval, the State Lottery Commission must also grant approval.

REVIEWED license fees for 1984 and agreed to maintain the same fees. DeCosta noted there were no increases in 1983; this is the second year in a row of no increases.

NOTED items remaining in the Grange Hall include athletic equipment belonging to the town's Recreation Commission, old equipment belonging to the Board of Health and miscellaneous items.

Carol Adams said seven persons have expressed an interest in bidding on the Grange Hall. Selectmen stressed bids will be accepted no later than 4:00 p.m. Tuesday, December 13, in the Selectmen's office and will be stamped with the date and time of acceptance. Bids will be opened at that evening's selectmen's meeting.

FOLLOW-UP FOR DRUG & ALCOHOL PREVENTION

As a follow-up to the drug and alcohol prevention program, "The Chemical People", held November 2nd at ORRHS, the Board of Selectmen agreed to put forward a positive recommendation.

At the suggestion of Selectman James Huntoon, the board will order signs to be prominently displayed at the town's four package stores declaring "the reiteration of the law against selling liquor to minors and citing the penalties".

Huntoon said this method is used at Cape Cod package stores and has proved successful. This relieves some of the pressure on package store owners, he added.

Selectman Frank Suzan commented, "the board will deal vigorously with these violations". "The Chemical People - Part II", community involvement and programs, was scheduled for November 9th. The board feels its action will show their concern for the serious problem of drug and alcohol abuse among young people.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The board went into executive session with Town Counsel Donald J. Fleming and George Heinz, chairman of the Board of Appeals, on a matter concerning litigation against the town.

and hospital employees -- as well as from philanthropic foundations. The funds to be raised will be used to establish a new Birthing Room in the Tobey Maternity Center, and to provide urgently needed equipment for the Cardiology Department, the Vascular Studies Lab, the Operating Room, the Emergency Department, and the Laboratory and X-Ray sections. Major improvements will also be made within the hospital's support systems, including air conditioning installation, a completely renovated heating system and a new, centralized communications system.

In welcoming the Area Chairmen, Mr. Baldwin said: "This will be the first major fund-raising effort for Tobey since the Susanna K. Tobey Wing was built in 1972. The success of our efforts in this endeavor will give us the new equipment and improved facilities that we need to continue providing the high quality of health care that has been the tradition of the hospital for the past 43 years." Baldwin announced that a total of $196,343 in gifts and pledges has already been raised in the campaign's Family Gifts Division, and from other major contributors in the area. Ralph Hayden, Vice President of the Tobey Board, is Chairman of the Family Division, and Edward T. Dana of Marion is heading the Major Gifts Division. Edwin H. B. Pratt, Jr., also of Marion, will chair the Special Gifts phase of the campaign, which is now in the process of organization.

Baldwin said that the Community Campaign will begin with the organization of additional volunteers in each of the seven designated areas, and will be seeking a minimum goal of $35,000. "This objective seems small in comparison to our total campaign of $750,000", he said. "We hope to raise a lot more than that, and the community effort will be especially important to the campaign

Fair Noel

St. Gabriel's Episcopal Church in Marion will hold its annual "Fair Noel" on Saturday, December 3rd, from 11:00 to 2:00.

Workshops have been underway since September to prepare the items which will fill many tables in several rooms of the parish hall. Homemade candy, jams, jellies, candles and the ever popular Christmas wreaths will be featured in addition to lovely hand-crafted and hand-sewn items.

Children may shop in the very special "Aunt Sarah's Corner" which is designed for children under twelve years old.

A luncheon offered by the men of the parish hall will feature a menu to satisfy any taste. There will also be a raffle highlighted by a quilt, a hand-crafted dollhouse, and a hand-crafted wooden rocking horse.

"Fair Noel" is held in the parish hall on the corner of Front and South Streets in Marion and is always an enjoyable time.

National Adoption Week

The North American Council on adoptable children has proclaimed Thanksgiving Week November 20th-26th as National Adoption Week.

Their aim is to focus attention on the unmet needs of over 100,000 adoptable children in the country, and also many children in foreign countries, who need to be adopted into permanent, nurturing families.

In conjunction with N.A.C. the Greater New Bedford Chapter of O.D.S. will hold an adoption information night on Sunday, November 20th, at 7 p.m. The meeting will take place at the Standish House, 20 South Sixth Street, New Bedford.

O.D.S. is not an adoption agency. Its members are all adoptive parents who have experienced the joys of adoption and wish to encourage anyone thinking about adoption.

Chapter members will speak of their experiences as adoptive parents and give information on different types of adoption.

Anyone interested or thinking about adoption is welcome to attend.

Refreshments will be served.

'83 Telerama

The place? Old Rochester Regional Junior High School. Why? To help in the battle against birth defects. When? November 20th from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m.

So that every baby in southeastern Massachusetts has the chance to be born healthy, the Southeastern Massachusetts Chapter, March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation will telecast its American Cablesystems '83 Telerama.

"The talent represents a spectrum of creativity", says Ken Pease, Co-Chairperson. Reports from all are very positive and Arlyn Noonan, Executive Director, March of Dimes, Southeastern Massachusetts Chapter, anticipates "a record breaking" total for this year's telerama and sends out a plea to American Cable subscribers to "tune in and call in a pledge".

Co-chairing the Telerama are Debbie Stinson, Program Director at American Cablesystems, and DeeDee Webster, a teacher with the New Bedford School Department; both reside in Marion. Talent is being co-ordinated by New Bedford resident Lisa Loranger who is employed at New Bedford Five Cents Savings Band, and Mr. Pease, a Mattapoisett resident and real estate broker with Dunn Inc. of Mattapoisett. The development of a telephone committee is being launched by Diane Perkins, a Community Service Representative at Plymouth Savings. Diane works and lives in Marion.

The telerama committee welcomes the general public and encourages everyone to stop in at Old Rochester Regional Junior High School and join in the fun.

local history and found the museum a fascinating source of information and materials. Co-ordinated with Mrs. Sue Watjen, the tour concentrated on seven areas of yesteryear: schools, clothing, homemaking, carpentry, the saltworks, ice cutting and the blacksmith's shop. Students were surprised by many facts they learned, including that Mattapoisett's early "center" of town was along the river, not far from the site of their school. Much of the success of this field trip was due to the knowledgeable and patient staff of volunteers at the museum. They shared useful information and allowed hands-on experiences wherever possible. Special thanks are extended to the mothers who walked with us from school to the museum: Linda Kelsey, Karen Parker and Susan Charbonneau.

Thank You

The Mattapoisett Congregational Church Youth Fellowship would like to thank everyone who pledged money to the walk-a-thon for Heifer Project International which was held on November 6th. By walking ten miles from Mattapoisett to Marion and back, the Fellowship raised over $380 for the hungry in poor parts of the world. Again, thank you for making the walk-a-thon a success.

WAMPANOAG POTATO BARGAIN

The children in the third grade at Rochester Memorial School are studying Indians. We made potato bargain the way Indians did. We fried sliced onions, then we added sliced potatoes and covered it with water, added seasoning to taste, pepper and bouillion cube. We cooked in until potatoes were tender. We all tasted the potatoes and had cranberry bread. The Wampanoags collect cranberries, and harvested potatoes in the fall for the winter months.

Mattapoisett Historical Society

Topics for conversation or diary entries haven't changed much over the years .... in 1879 when Dr. David H. Cannon, grandfather to Francis Rowland, Rachael Hillsdale and the late Elizabeth Wood, wrote in his diary he recorded the weather, prices of daily items, and his harvest.

In September 1879 the weather was very warm but by the end of the month it had grown very cold. The grape harvest was good and he and his wife made wine, jam and jelly.

October started out with a 90° day and the last of the corn was harvested. The cow, which had been ill, was "better so as to steal cabbage!"

Apples were put down for the winter and peaches were put up as preserves.

October continued more normal in weather with cold, rain, sun, and good days.

But November started right out with a a vengeance...

Monday, November 2, 1879..."All sorts of weather. Two or three hours of S. E. snowstorm...heavy in the forenoon, followed at noon by heavy thunder which destroyed a barn in Mattapoisett owned by Sam Hamblen and also injured a woman in Pine Island...Mrs. Robert Dexter.

"It soon after cleared off pleasant and so continued all the P.M. till about sunset it suddenly came up a snow squall and again by a wind squall at about 8 p.m. Finished up cold as indeed it was during most of the day.

"The above storm ... three flashes struck the above subjects and also Brad LeBaron had the sole of his boot ripped off. Rufus Bowles had three braces in his umbrella broken as he held it over his head during the second flash. And a Miss Wilbur in the Barstow School was somewhat shocked, and last it took a buttonwood tree by Herman Holmes' place."

(That must have been some "hot foot" for Brad LeBaron and another subject for conversation for the rest of his life.)

Following those entries there was a stretch of pleasant, dry weather and he was able to shingle the west side of his house and repair the fence. The shingles for his job cost $1.80 a bundle.

November 16, 1879 was a Sunday ..."Pleasant, the wells and springs are very low around and many are dry. Cooler."

The husband of Mrs. Robert Dexter (nee Kate M. Luce) was the great, great uncle of the Dexters now living on Pine Island Road and Luen Johnson of Pico Beach Road. Robert and his brothers, James and John Dexter, were the developers of the Pico Beach resort of Mattapoisett. Robert also left a heritage of fine furniture as he was an accomplished cabinet maker and carpenter.

A flower can be an object of scientific study, the inspiration for a poem or simply a source of pleasure for someone who looks at it. New England's varied plant communities have delighted botanists and flower lovers and stimulated great writing on the beauties of nature. "THE FLOWERING OF NEW ENGLAND" will blend science and literature in a lively look at our native plants. The botanic and human histories of particular flowers will be illustrated by readings from Emily Dickinson, Robert Frost, Henry David Thoreau and others. Thoreau, perhaps the most famous New England writer on nature, was a popular speaker in Plymouth during the mid-1800's. He often stopped to visit his friend Marston Watson when working as a surveyor in Plymouth or journeying to Cape Cod.

Mario J. DiGregorio is on the Board of Directors of the Plymouth County Wildlands Trust and works as a Federal Ranger at the Cape Cod Canal. Jeffrey S. Wallner, a former PCWT Director, now works for the Society for the Preservation of New Hampshire Forests at The Rocks in Littleton. He and Mr. DiGregorio are writing a botanic guide to the Cape Cod Canal region.

The Plymouth County Wildlands Trust is a non-profit land trust dedicated to the preservation of local natural areas. It is celebrating its tenth anniversary this year and now owns 14 reservations totaling 620 acres of conservation land in Duxbury, Kingston, Middleboro, Plymouth, Rochester and Wareham. Plimoth Plantation is a non-profit, living history museum which recreates the lives of the small band of immigrants who established the first successful English colony in New England - the Pilgrims. A picture of 17th century life is

Plimoth Plantation

VISITORS CAN SEE PILGRIMS
PREPARE TO SURVIVE WINTER

Visitors to Plimoth Plantation during November will see for themselves how the early colonists preserved food to survive the long winter in the wilderness.

Threshing of grain, parching corn, baking, pickling garden crops, drying herbs, brewing beer, butchering hogs, smoking hams and bacons, salting fish, making sausage and rendering fat for soap are a few of the activities that will be going on each week in the 1627 Pilgrim Village.

In addition to routine chores, women will do laundry and bake breads, and men will repair chimneys, add siding to the Alden House, make nails and hold court sessions. There will be militia musters daily.

Plimoth Plantation is the outdoor living history museum of 17th century Plymouth, and is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. through November 30th. Its exhibits include a full scale replica Mayflower II docked at State Pier in Plymouth Harbor, and the 1627 Pilgrim Village. A special exhibit of Wampanoag Indian clothing through the centuries is located in the Orientation Center near the Village.

CONFERENCE ON SALT PONDS & TIDAL INLETS

The Lloyd Center for Environmental Studies and the Massachusetts Coastal Zone Management Program are sponsoring a one-day conference on Salt Ponds and Tidal Inlets: Maintenance and Management Considerations. This conference will be held at the Whaler Motor Inn November 19th from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and is aimed to provide general information and specific guidelines to anyone interested in management in the Coastal Zone.

This conference will inform people about the various considerations in managing coastal ponds and their openings to the sea. Information will be given in the broad spectrum of subjects which must be considered in preparing a management plan and implementing a maintenance program.

With the problems being discussed in southeastern Massachusetts of how to manage the Let (Westport) Allen's Pond, and the Slocum River in Dartmouth and a number of coastal ponds and tidal inlets on Martha's Vineyard and the south shore of Cape Cod, the Lloyd Center and Massachusetts C.Z.M. Program felt that an informational session is needed. This conference is recommended for anyone in the general public and especially members of Conservation Commissions, Shellfish Boards, Boards of Selectmen, Boards of Health, and Planning Boards. In addition, Shellfish Officers, Health Officers, and Conservation Officers are recommended to attend this program.

Subjects to be covered will include public health and water stagnation, sedimentation problems, shellfish and fisheries manage-

Concert to Benefit F.H.S.

Knipe Auditorium at Fairhaven High School will be the setting for a Chrstmas Musicale performed by the Saints and Singers of upper Cape Cod at 8:00 p.m. on Saturday, December 3rd. The 35-voice chorus of men and women will make the Fairhaven site one stop on its annual holiday tour, which for 1983 includes the "Christmas in Newport" series. According to chorus spokeswom Fran Lacasse, the group, which offers both Christmas and Spring concert series, has made more than 70 appearances in the Upper Cape area since its inception in June 1978.

Sponsored by the Fairhaven High School Alumni Association, the December 3rd gala will benefit the High School Restoration Fund; proceeds of the event are specifically earmarked for the renovation of Knipe Auditorium, fondly remembered by generations of F.H.S. grads as the "old auditorium" and renamed in 1975 for retired English Department Chair Mabel Hoyle Knipe. The evening's entertainment will include a public reception, with refreshments, for the musicians.

Dedicated in 1906, the High School was considered the best equipped in the nation at the time, and even today, must be one of the most beautiful -- an Elizabethan edifice of local granite, Italian marble, French plate glass, and English oak, featuring, as well, several stunning stained glass windows -- all in a distinguished setting at the entrance to the town.

Residents of Fairhaven today share a sense of profound gratitude to Mr. Rogers for his gifts, as well as an awareness of our obligation to preserve our lovely buildings, whatever the cost. To that end, the Alumni Association has expended most of its energy and all of its funds for the past few years in efforts to refurbish the High School. An appeal issued October 1st reached 8000 F.H.S. graduates; those who responded will find their names printed in a lavish souvenir concert program, according to the following schedule: Patrons, $15 or more; Benefactors, $25 or more; Silver Donors, $50 or more; and Gold Donors, $100 or more.

Contributions, as well as requests for concert tickets, at $5. each, should be sent to F.H.S. Alumni Association, P. O. Box 6, Fairhaven, MA. 02719. Further information may be obtained from David K. Plymouth Philharmonic

CONCERT THIS SATURDAY

Bach, Beethoven and Brahms - their names are synonymous with some of the finest music the world has ever heard! On Saturday, November 19th, the Plymouth Philharmonic Orchestra presents a program of works by these three musical giants. The concert begins at 8 p.m. in Memorial Hall, Court Street (Route 3A), Plymouth.

Under the direction of Rudolf Schlegel, the Philharmonic will open the program with Beethoven's "'Egmont' Overture". It was very probably during the siege or occupation of Vienna by the Napoleonic armies in 1809 that Beethoven read Goethe's "Egmont", a drama of patriotic resistance to a foreign oppressor. Inspired by the work, Beethoven composed incidental music for it, with the first performance of music and play together taking place on May 24, 1810, in Vienna. From the compact, resolute opening chords to the victorious close, the work is a thrilling portrayal of the spirit of resistance.

The prolific works of Johann Sebastian Bach are represented on the program by the "Suite No. 3 in D Major". The suite - meaning a "sequence of pieces" - is derived from dance music from the twelfth through seventeenth centuries. There is a splendid, energetic overture, followed by a beautiful air, the heart of the work. Three French dance movements which follow are an ingenious intensification of tempo and expression.

The second half of the program is devoted to Johannes Brahms' "Serenade No. 1". Originally written as a piece for nine instruments, five of which were woodwinds, the work eventually turned into something quite different. At the suggestion of some of his musical contemporaries, Brahms rewrote the work, transforming it into an orchestral piece. When the "Serenade" was first performed in 1860, the audience treated it with extreme coolness. Two years later, however, the "Serenade" had emerged as an unqualified success.

Philharmonic Manager Roberta Otto reports that there are good seats still available for this concert. Tickets may

Award for Smocking

JUDITH B. BRANDAU ACCOMPLISHES PENN. FIRST

The daughter of Conrad and Anita Bernier of Rochester, Judith Bernier Brandau accomplished a Pennsylvania state first recently. She became the first person in the medium of English Smocking ever awarded Juried Status by the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen. This award, the highest a craftperson of any media can earn in the state, honored her work for excellence in design, workmanship, and style.

To be considered for the title, Judith submitted four finished articles for critiquing before two different panels of judges. The first, regional session, was held in July in Bedford, Pa. There, other craftspeople of Juried Membership examined her work and pledged sponsorship for the next, state level, session. That session took place the second week of October in York, Pa. A board of experts recognized statewide for their knowledge of crafts, did the judging. Their official nod of approval, a calligraphy certificate, arrived this past week. It will hang on the wall above Judith's sewing machine... "for inspiration to do better things".

The four garments entered in these sessions have been enjoying notoriety of their own. The first, a white and blue blouse with a ruffled collar, was featured in the fall issue of Smocking Arts Magazine.

The second outfit, a peasant style child's dress with matching bonnet, will soon become part of the permanent collection of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington, D. C.

The third set is a christening gown and bonnet which has won several Best of Show awards in regional competitions.

The fourth garment, a Victorian-style

Rochester Youth Hockey

In games played the weekend of November 12, Rochester Youth Hockey teams registered a win, a tie, and a defeat.

The Bantam B's, sponsored by Marble Hardware, played an exciting and strong game with only 9 players, while losing their first game of the season 2-0 against Provincetown. One of the two opposing goals was scored while the B's were 2 men short, and although the B's outshot the opponents, they were unable to score a goal. Tim Bronk played an outstanding game in net for the B's.

The Bantam C's, sponsored by American Flexible, continued their unbeaten streak by beating Kennedy II by a score of 3-0. Larry Westgate was in net for the C's, and Tommy Dias registered with 2 goals and 1 assist. Derek Notman also had a goal, with assists going to Robby Lawrence and Billy Raynor. Dean Frates played an outstanding game, as did Tommy Dias.

In Midget action, the Midget team, sponsored by Vel's, came from behind to score their 3rd goal and end their game in a 3-3 tie with Canal. Mike Roszkiewicz was in the net, and goals were scored by Tim Drew, Brian Braden, and Chris Hilley, with Hilley also getting an assist.

No other game scores were available.
